Recent Research Findings in the Archaeological Site Puchuni, Atavillos Alto, Valley Chancay

Diana Antezana Ruiz*, María Díaz Bejarano, Gabriela Contreras Ampuero, Augusto Neyra Carrillo*

ABSTRACT

This investigation carried out to recognize the archaeological place of Atavillos Alto, with the objective of determining the architecture types that were developed in the place denominated as Puchuni. Also, it had as purpose to establish the occupation sequence in their historical future, for that which took advantage, besides the architectural types of the place, the opposing remains of superficial ceramic. Finally it was about checking the Inca presence in Puchuni starting from the vestiges architectural present.

Key words: Atavillos Alto, Puchuni.